

State, County, District Offices At Stake Nov. 8

Next Tuesday, Nov. 8, is general election day in Illinois to fill state, district and county offices.

There are few strictly county contests in Will and if one discards the re-election of the two associate circuit court judges who have no contests only a sheriff, county treasurer, county clerk and county superintendent of schools are to be chosen.

Nor are there many state contests. Charles Percy, Republican, is battling Democrat incumbent, Paul Douglas for U.S. Senator in the feature race of the election. Both are well known.

The race for state treasurer between Harris Rowe, Jacksonville, Republican, and Adlai Stevenson III, Chicago Democrat, is looked upon by some observers as a sort of preliminary referendum on a state income tax. Stevenson voted for a graduate state income tax at the last session of the legislature while Rowe voted against it in the same session. There is some agitation by certain groups to load Illinois residents with a state income tax and it is expected that the question will come up for public decision in the not too distant future, according to the politicoes.

The other state contest is between Ray Page, Republican, seeking re-election as state superintendent of public instruction, and Donald Prince, Democrat, Bloomington. Will County voters have an interest in this because Verne E. Crackel, former Will County school superintendent, is now assistant to Page at Springfield.

In the county races principal interest is centered on the sheriff's race in which Martin Jackson, police judge and later circuit court magistrate at Joliet for almost 20 years, is the Republican candidate. Joseph Snedec, police chief of Rockdale, is running on the Democratic ticket following a hectic primary battle that saw three Democratic factions engaged in quite an exhibition of in-fighting.

Also drawing interest is the race between two women seeking election as county clerk. The Republican nominee, Clara Hartley Woodard, is seeking re-election on her record and experience in office. Her Democratic opponent is Marie Mikan Spiers, of Joliet, who works in the Joliet supervisor's office.

The other contest, election as county superintendent of schools, is between Boyd Bucher, Republican incumbent, and Mark DeLay, Democrat, of Roemerville. Most of the school administrators in the county are backing Bucher. The race is of interest in this area because H. James Wrath, of Mokena and former superintendent of Arbury Hills School, is assistant to Bucher.

The district office effecting this area are congress, state senator and state representative. The area has a new congressman since reapportionment, Leslie Arnds, Republican, of Melvin, who is opposed by Bernard J. Hughes, Democrat, Normal. This is the 17th Congressional District.

It is also the 41st Senatorial District and Meade Baltz, Republican, is opposing Martin J. Gleason, Democrat. Both are from Joliet. There is a little strife reported in Will County Democrats over Gleason. The 41st includes Grundy County.

This section also lies in the 41st State Representative District. Three are to be elected out of four candidates, two for each party. William (Bill) Barr, Joliet, and Robert Blair, Park Forest, incumbent, on the Republican side, and Francis J. Loughran, Joliet, and John J. Houlihan, Park Forest, both incumbents on the Democratic side but not buddies, according to politicoes. One can vote for one, two or three candidates. If one he gets all three votes; if two it's 1 1/2 each and if three then 1 vote each.

Stuart Hutchison (R) and Angelo Pistilli (D) are running for re-election as associate judges of the circuit court. They have no opposition under the judicial reform amendment and simply run on their records.

There is a contest for a place on the circuit bench of the 12th Circuit which is made up of Will, Kankakee and Iroquois counties. Robert Higgins, Joliet attorney, is the Republican choice. Higgins has been practicing law for 35 years. The Democratic candidate is August Santoro, of Frankfort, present assessor of Frankfort township and village attorney of Frankfort. He has been practicing about six years.

There is a Blue Ballot too. The people are to decide if the state constitution is to be amended by inclusion of a new revenue article. Altho endorsed by both major parties observers report it to be a rather open question and the practical ones would bet a nickel on it either way.

"It's as bad as betting on a steeplechase," declared one.

Open Bids To Pave 80 East Of Mokena

Arcole Midwest Corp., Evanston, appeared to be the low bidder on 4.54 miles of reinforced concrete pavement on I-80 between Wolf Rd. and 76th Av., which is just west of Harlem Av. at Tinley Park.

His figure was $2,756,694. This was one of several bids on highway projects opened by the State Division of Highways in Springfield last Friday.

Lawrence & Ahlman Inc., Des Plaines, was apparent low bidder on 1.37 miles of landscaping on I-80 two miles south of Tinley Park, with a price of $108,897.

The bid of Chaney Fence Corp., Florissant, Mo., $335,462, apparently was low on I-80 traffic signs in Joliet based on steel sign structures while National Adv. Co., Bedford Park, was low on aluminum sign structures with a price of $321,384.

Bids on the cloverleaf on U.S. 45 in the vicinity of 183d St. and moving of U.S. 45 westward between 183d and 191st and carrying it over the Rock Island tracks are scheduled to be taken this month.

The news that I-80 would be open for traffic by November, 1968, was carried by the Graphic Newspapers 10 days before it was announced by any other media serving the area.

3 Members Of Santoro Family Hurt In Crash

The wife and two children of August Santoro, village attorney for Frankfort and a candidate for circuit judge on the Democratic ticket, were injured last Friday forenoon (Oct. 28) when the car in which they were riding was struck by a skidding auto on U.S. 30 in Lincoln Estates.

Mrs. Santoro (Arlene), 28, 535 Illinois Rd., Frankfort, suffered a severe cut above the left eye, as well as lacerations about the face. Twelve stitches were neces-

Sweeten Prize

The Mokena Lions, which like other clubs in the area is sponsoring local entries in the national Peace Essay contest, has decided to sweeten the pot.

The Mokena Lions will give $50 to the writer of the best local essay, it was announced this week by Leo Marcoux, chairman of the committee in charge.

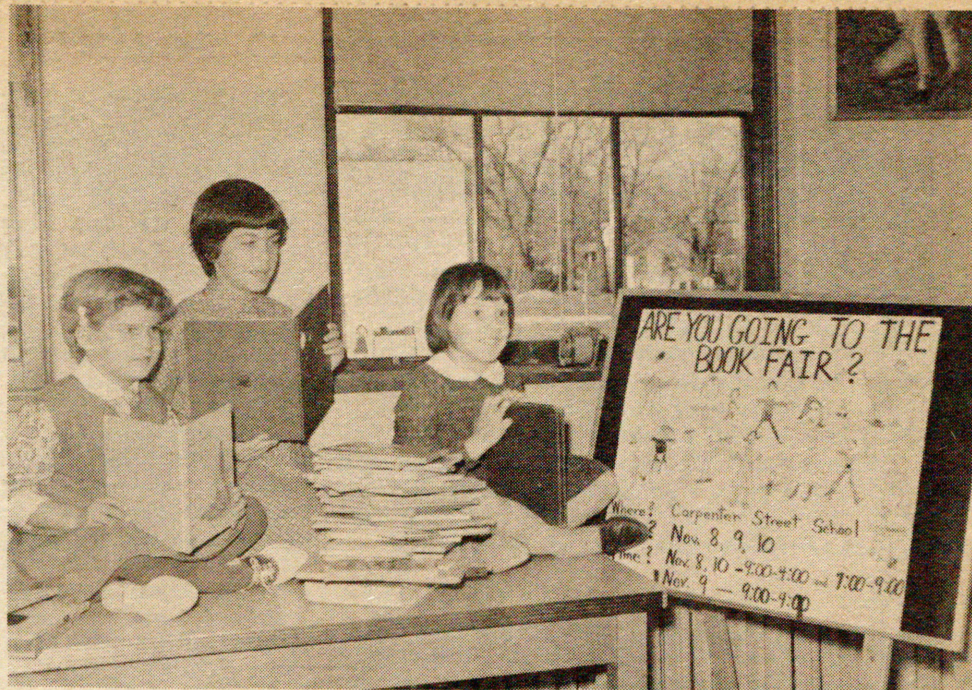

Dec. 1 is the deadline for completion of essays by local contenders, Marcoux pointed out, and added that anyone desiring more information may call him at 479-5246.

With her in the car were the Santoros two sons, Wayne, 18 months old, and John, 3. John was hurled out of the car by the impact and thrown 20 feet. He was hospitalized at Silver Cross but was released and brought home Sunday. Mrs. Santoro and Wayne were released from the hospital after treatment of their injuries.

The driver of the other car was Charles L. Partain, 21, of Oak Forest. He was ticketed by state troopers on two charges, wrong lane usage and driving while his operator's license was revoked. Partain was taken to the Will County jail but released after posting a bond. Apparently he escaped injury.

It was reported that Partain, traveling west, fell asleep and awakened just as his car was going off the right side of the highway. He allegedly swung the wheel hard to the left and applied his brakes as there were skid marks in his lane which carried on into the east bound lane into which his car skidded. Mrs. Santoro was east bound.

POSTER WINNERS in annual Book Fair on next week at Carpenter Street School. It should be put, three of the winners--because there are five others but one couldn't seat eight youngsters on a table. In the trio, left to right, are: Joann Koerner, 6, 1st grade, Lisa Shoop, 10, 5th grade, and Nancy Snyder, 7, 2nd grade. The other winners, not present when the picture was taken, were Tim McGivern, 4th grade, Carpenter Street; Robert Morgan, 3d grade, Susan Tinkey, 6th grade, Pam Cadwallader, 7th grade and Steve Ennis, 8th grade, all of Willowcrest School.

Dist. 230 Plans Bond Election For Dec. 3

A meeting to give the public details of a proposed building program for High School District 230 is scheduled to be called shortly by the Board of Education of Sandburg and Stagg high schools.

A referendum on a $3.5-million bond issue is set for Dec. 3.

At its last meeting, Oct. 24, the board had some discussion on the mechanics of the referendum but details of the program will be announced at a public meeting early this month. The board wants to inform the parents, the press, voters and election workers of the plans and needs to be met thru the bond issue.

Enrollments in both high schools are reported to be growing.

A portion of the Oct. 24 board meeting was spent in an informal discussion of the problems of teaching English at Sandburg and Stagg.

Miss Ruth Bardwick, chairman of the department at Sandburg, emphasized that "books and more books, especially for poor readers, are needed." She suggested that the library budgets at both schools be increased so that more books of special interest to those with reading difficulties could be purchased.

Agreeing that school library service is of extreme importance, was the division chairman from Stagg, Miss Sarah Stephens. A second key problem, Miss Stephens reported, is that English teachers at Stagg meet with five classes each day, while at Sandburg each English instructor has four classes.

Because there is so much regular written work to correct from five classes, the English teachers at Stagg find it just about impossible to assign students a theme a week.

A board member asked if lay readers could help to alleviate the workload. Miss Stephens said that using college educated homemakers to read and grade student theme could be an answer, because students should write effectively, to communicate with any reader, not just to please the English teacher.

Miss Bardwick told the board that she had tried using lay theme graders but abandoned it because her students didn't like being graded by someone other than their teacher.

The meeting with the department head was the first of several in-service programs scheduled to inform the board of what's happening in each area. Other topics board members asked about were coordination with elementary school's program; the "new" grammar called structural linguistics, and how best to help the poor student of English who often has low reading skills.

Supt. W. O. Fisher reported that no money or records were taken by the burglars who entered the Stagg High School business office about 1 a.m. Oct. 16 and blasted the safe.

Adopt Payroll Program

Andrew Corporation of Orland Park has announced a new payroll program for their production employees. This program, which went into effect Oct. 3, provides that all employees be paid on a salary basis, thus permitting the formerly "hourly-paid" personnel the additional benefits of pay for personal time off and first day coverage under the company's sick pay plan.

This plan is the final step in a program to completely equalize benefits between office and shop employees. The numerous benefits, all company paid, include vacations, holidays, medical and hospitalization insurance, life insurance, sick pay, 100% night school tuition, profit sharing with matched savings and college scholarships for employee's children. These many benefits accrue to all full-time employees.

Under the new plan, production employees continue to receive a weekly paycheck, including time and one-half for all hours over 40 (Andrew is on a standard 45 hour week) and including the 10% shift premium, where applicable.

The new program means that a production worker will be paid for approved personal time off and will begin to receive sick pay (full eight hours of pay) on the first day of illness rather than on the third day, as was the practice in the past. The number of days of sick pay each year is based on the length of service of the employee. For less than one year's service there are five days of benefits; one to five years brings 20 days of benefits; five to ten years provides 50 days, and over ten years of service provides 100 days of benefits per year.

Andrew Corporation is located at 10500 West 153rd st., Orland Park. The company is well known as a leader in the field of antennas and transmission lines. A building program currently under way will almost double their manufacturing and office space. This expansion was necessary to meet the ever-growing demand for quality space age communication products, officials said.

Percy For Senator

When voters go to the polls next Tuesday, they will be asked to render a decision of major significance for Illinois and for the nation in casting their ballots for the office of United States senator.

They will be making a choice between dynamic new leadership and the tired platitudes and weary cynicisms of the old. It is precisely for this reason -- the gap between the progressive future and the complacent present -- that this newspaper earnestly urges its readers to mark their ballots for Charles H. Percy.

At 47, Percy is of the generation that must solve the problems that older generations have left for the nation and the world. He is of the generation that has the heart and the courage to face up squarely to the tasks ahead.

Percy speaks eloquently for the new breed of Republicans who insist that their party must be consistently progressive as well as soundly conservative. In this context, he has demonstrated imagination and initiative in approaching the issues of our times -- peace and poverty, civil rights and civil delinquency.

He has spoken out with a strong new voice for a better America.

When Percy ran for governor two years ago, he bespoke vision, integrity and zeal for good government. He has grown even greater in stature since that time, and the substance and quality he now offers to his fellow citizens are deserving of a larger forum -- the United States Senate -- for their use.

At no time was Percy's vibrant appeal to all segments of the public more apparent than in his whistlestop campaign train trip through the heart of Illinois last week. In one instance children holding hand-made Percy signs stood in a school yard to wave as the Percy train passed by. In other instances Illinoisans of all ages -- from teens through the elderly -- crowded up to shake his hand when he stepped down from the train.

Truly, his is the strong new voice which Illinois can send with pride to the United States Senate. We again urge that our readers mark their ballots for Charles H. Percy for U.S. senator.

Seek Cash Gifts To Help CROP Program

"Advanced Gifts" to the Christian Rural Overseas Program are those given by professional and businessmen.

This phase of the CROP program being conducted in Will County is the responsibility of Robert Eaton, president of the Will County Farm Bureau with large farm operations South of Joliet near Elwood.

He appeals to the businessmen of Will County to assist him with this work by making a contribution to CROP. Monies so contributed will be used to purchase agricultural implements, garden seeds, grains, such as corn, beans and wheat, which can be consumed as food by those millions of small children and adults in foreign countries who are hungry. Many even dying from the diseases associated with under-nourishment. Other materials are sent into those poorer overseas countries by CROP as the need is apparent.

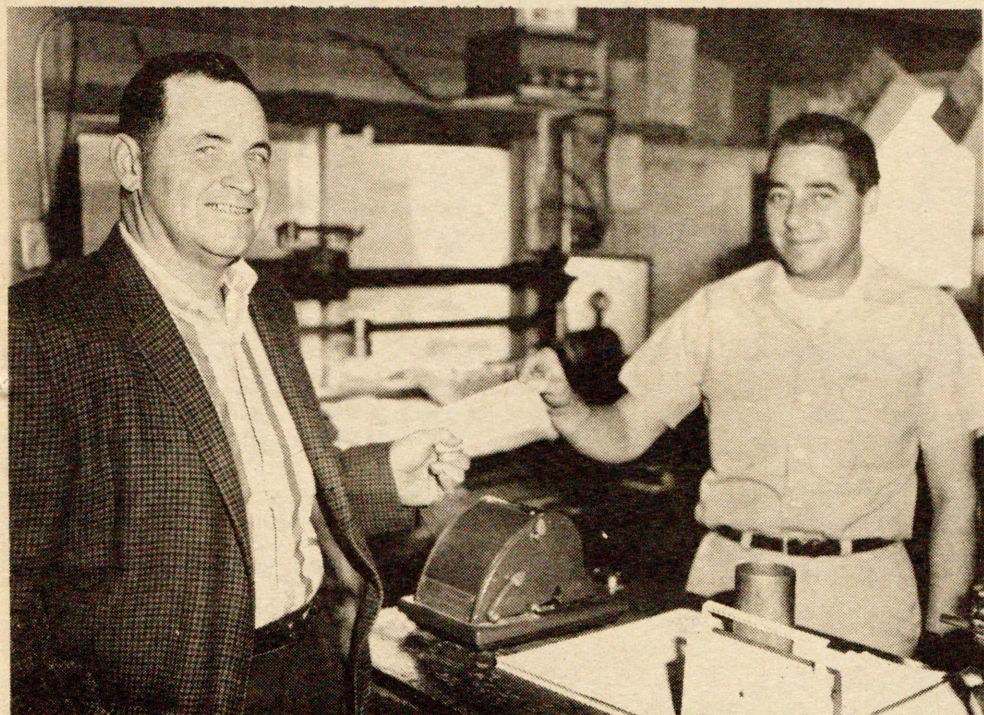

Foods and other materials sent to the needy of foreign nations are usually accompanied by a representative of the Church World Service Organization. This person sees to it that the food or clothing and other articles in the shipment reaches the hungry and poorly housed. Thus one has considerable assurance his gifts reach the needy as he wishes them to do, Eaton said.

"What an opportunity this offers for the urban people of Will County to join hands with the rural people in an act of mercy," Eaton said. "May we work together on this project and thus result in a large contribution to CROP in 1966. By doing so Mr. Businessman you will help many needy and less fortunate, and we will all help ourselves thru a feeling of performing an act of mercy jointly with our Will County neighbors."

CROP acts rapidly in time of emergency, it was pointed out. Recently Hurricane Inez destroyed at least half of the housing in the Jacmel area of Haiti. CROP immediately airlifted 70,000 packets of vegetable seeds and 500 pounds of sorghum seed. They shipped by sea 1,000 pounds of bean seed. The seed is essential for immediate fall planting. CROP also made available $5,000 for emergency purchase of food and tools on the island. Local labor which is needed is paid for with food which is contributed by Church World Service. The handling of these materials in the country is under the supervision of two representatives, one from CROP and the other from Church World Service. This is only one example of the swiftness with which CROP and C.W.S. move to help the hungry and the homeless help themselves, Eaton said.

Eaton's mailing address is Box 45, Elwood, and his phone number is 423-5331.

SQUARE TENNIS COURTS at Mokena Community Park. According to members of the Mokena Park District board the new courts the district is having built were off line at the east end and a new piece has to be added to square it. The board is concerned as to whether the addition will bond properly and a meeting is scheduled this week to discuss the situation.

THEY'RE FOR GRAHAM -- Women volunteers for Richey V. Graham Jr., Democratic candidate for state representative in the 9th District, met recently in Palos Park. Here are some of the ladies pledging their support to Graham and ready to work for his election. Approximately 100 women from Worth, Palos, Hickory Hills and Orland attended the coffee hour, Mrs. Joyce Semelka, to the right of Graham, served as hostess.

Graham Endorsed By Harold Mance

Harold W. Mance, veteran suburban police magistrate and twice his party's nominee for state representative, today endorsed Richey V. Graham Jr. for state representative in the 9th District.

"Two of the candidates seeking the post of state representative have rejected the interest of suburban citizens by supporting legislation designed to establish a state income tax," Mance charged.

"One of Graham's opponents vigorously opposed legislation which would have provided needed revenue for suburban communities," Mance stated. Suburban town and villages are not able to survive on the lip service rendered to home rule, Mance contended. They must receive the energetic legislation of a state program dedicated to the solution of a expanding population explosion.

"Graham will not condone the transfer of Metropolitan slum problems to the suburban area," Mance said.

Family Service Sets Up Quarters In Palos Park

Family Service of Southwest Cook County has established permanent headquarters at 12742 Harlem Av. in Palos Heights, announcement is made by the Rev. Frank Sanders, director of the Community Center Foundation and chairman of the organizing committee for Rev. Frank Sanders, director of the Community Center Foundation and chairman of the organizing committee for the new agency. Formerly, the agency occupied temporary facilities at the Community Center Foundation, 127th Street and Southwest Highway in Palos Park.

The primary goals of the new agency include the provision of counseling services to troubled families. A. Gerald Erickson, chief social worker for the agency, explained.

In addition to counseling for marital difficulties and parent-child conflicts, the agency will also offer professional guidance with problems such as a child's adjustment difficulties at school, a teen-ager's rebellion against authority, the pregnancy of an unmarried girl, a father's desertion of his family, an aged person's difficulty in adjusting to increasing dependency. Professionally trained caseworkers will help members of the community find effective ways to cope with long-term burdens or sudden misfortune that disrupt personal or family life.

This facility for organized suburban family service is available to residents of Palos and Orland Townships, with the possibility of expansion to include other areas later. The establishment of this agency was undertaken at the request of the Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago to meet a definite need for family service in the area.

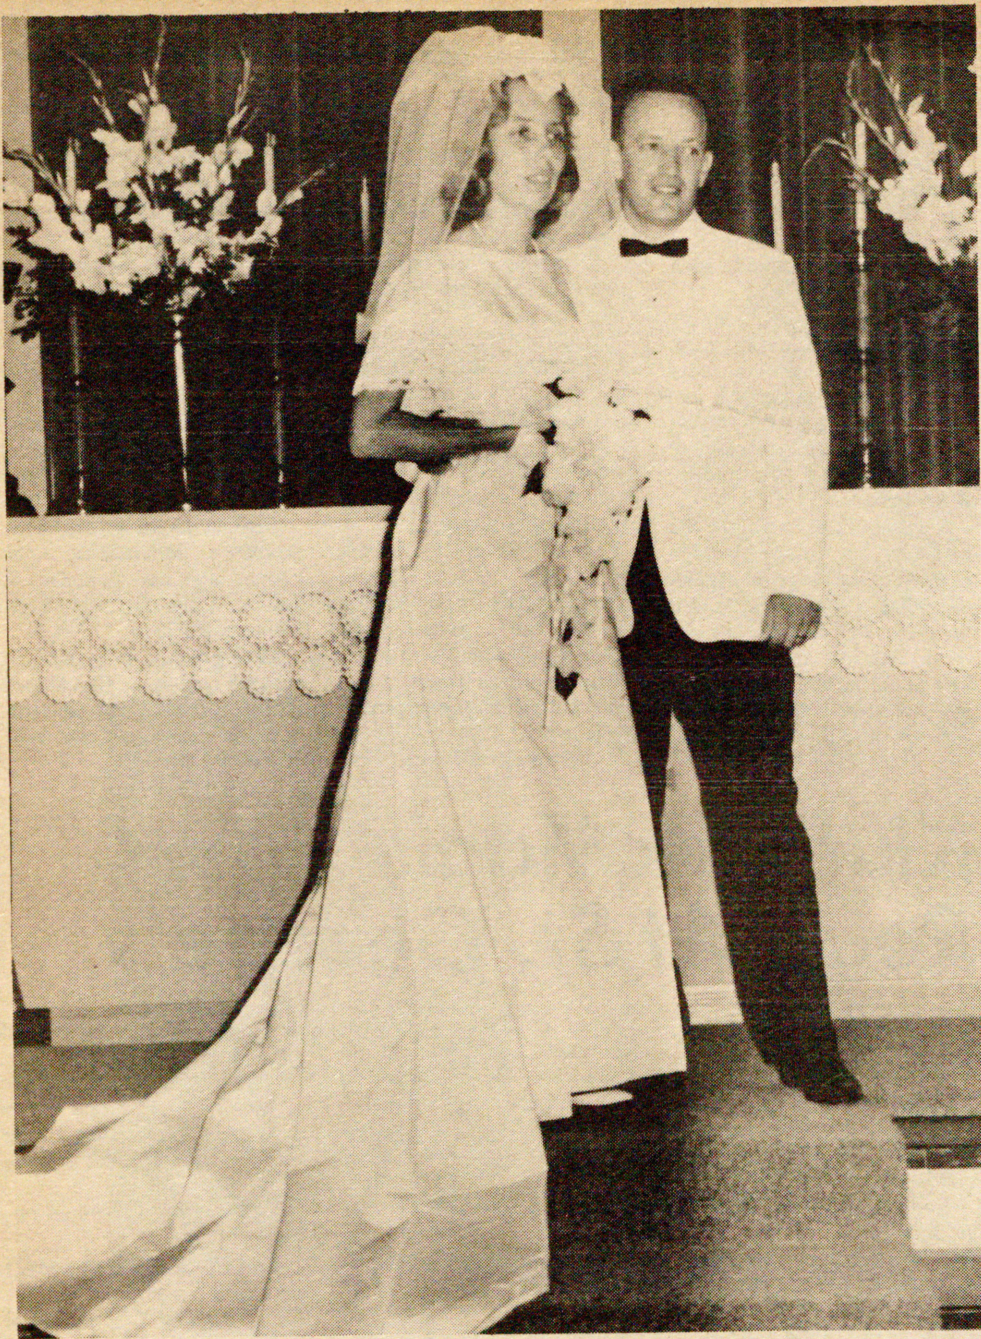

Services will be available to all residents of Orland and Palos Townships regardless of race, religion, national background or economic or social class. Fees for services are based upon ability to pay, as determined by income and family size. Persons wishing to make an appointment may call 448-1166.

Family Service of Southwest Cook County is affiliated with the United Charities of Chicago. Thru this affiliation, the new agency will be in a strong position to draw on the experience and guidance of one of the oldest and largest family service agencies in Chicago.

Cullerton Is Honored For Home Owner Aid

P. J. Cullerton, the assessor of Cook County, recently was accorded special recognition for a program of helping home owners.

At a downtown Chicago luncheon, Assessor Cullerton was presented with a plaque honoring him for this program in behalf of home owners. The plaque was presented by Joseph B. Meegan, executive secretary of the Back of the Yards Council, an organization which has gained distinction for its successful efforts in encouraging home owners and other property owners to rehabilitate and keep their properties in good repair.

The special recognition given Cullerton pertained to a long list of guidelines he set forth several years ago to induce home owners to make repairs and thus protect their investments and at the same time prevent the spread of blight.

Of major significance is the objective of these special guidelines from Cullerton's office is to show home owners how they can make many improvements to their properties without increasing assessments and tax bills.

In general, the improvements involve the replacement of various parts of the house which are beginning to show the wear of time and use. Such improvements -- without increasing assessments and tax bills -- represent normal upkeep which have the very real effect of modernizing and keeping a structure in top condition.

Cullerton, who is a candidate for re-election Tuesday, has renewed a pledge both for himself and for his staff of experts in the office of Cook County Assessor.

It read in part: "My pledge is to continue the conscientious service to the public that has marked the assessment process in Cook County and has provided, above all, protection for the homeowner."

Mokena Methodists To Celebrate Century Of Community Service

Beginning Sunday, Nov. 6 and continuing thru Sunday, Nov. 13, the Mokena Methodist Church will celebrate its first century of service to the community.

Centennial Week will begin with regular church service at 10:45 a.m. this Sunday. An open house and a showing of slides depicting episodes in the history of the church, plus an historical display are scheduled for 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Mrs. Wesley Sievertm Lee Steinbrenner, William Welsch and Mrs. Robert Watson make up the committee in charge.

A banquet, for which reservations already have been made by members and friends, is to be served next Thursday night at 7 o'clock at Camp Manitauqua on Sauk Trail, east of Frankfort.

This dinner will see the return of several former pastors, including the Rev. Harold Sandall, now of Lincoln, Neb., the Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Beatty, Carrolltown, Mo., and the Rev. and Mrs. Dale Kleinschmidt, now of Villa Park. On the banquet committee are: Mr. and Mrs. Elias Brown, Mrs. Willard Barenz, Mrs. Florence Niethammer and Wesley Sievert.

On Sunday, Nov. 13, Dr. Lloyd Gustafson, Aurora, district superintendent of the Rock River Conference, is to be preacher at the 10:45 worship service.

That afternoon the present sanctuary will be dedicated and the mortgage burned. This program is to begin at 3 o'clock with the Rev. Robert Watson, pastor, Dr. Gustafson and a lay leader presiding.

In charge of preparations for the celebration were Ralph Snow, chairman, Mrs. Harold Cooper, Durward Fant, Mrs. Niethammer, Berle Needham, Mr. Steinbrenner, Lyman Teague Sr. and Robert Shutte.

Minutes of the Rock River Conference Journal state that in 1866 a pastor was sent to Mokena to serve such Methodists he found there as their spiritual director.

That he found some and set up a church is a known fact because there is a record that a church was dedicated on Dec. 15, 1867. An inscription telling of the occasion was found engraved on the underside of a marble slab. This discovery was made 63 years ago by the late William Semmler, the editor and founder of the Semmler Newspapers.

The inscription read: "This church was dedicated on the fifteenth day of December, 1867. The dedicatory sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Kidder of Evanston. The Rev. Lucius Hawkins served as pastor and the Rev. W. F. Steward as Presiding Elder."

For some time the building was used for services on alternate Sundays by the Methodist and Baptist congregations but this arrangement came to an end in an argument over ownership of the building. A court decision approved the Methodists' claim.

Two pot belly stoves provided the house of worship with heat in winter and kerosene lamps, some fastened to the walls between the windows while overhead such lamps made up a great chandelier. In 1913 the church went electric.

The original structure was sufficient to meet the needs of the congregation for 86 years. Growth was slow but a pick-up in Sunday School attendance stimulated membership and in 1952 an addition, the present sanctuary, was built. The former sanctuary now serves as the Educational Building, Fellowship Hall and for the past five years has housed the Happy Hour Kindergarten.

Previous to 1959 the church was served by part-time pastors. In that year the Rev. Robert King, who now has a charge at Westchester, became the pastor.

In preparation for the future the church purchased a 5-acre site on LaPorte Rd. at a cost of $12,500. This was in 1963 and in the fall of that year the church also purchased its first parsonage. Located on Mokena St., it cost $17,500. It is within walking distance of the new church site.

A number of organizations contribute to the activities of the church; the Woman's Society of Christian Service with its two circles -- Naomi and Susannah; the Men's Club; Willing Workers; Methodist Youth Fellowship; Couples Club; junior and senior choirs, and a Sunday School.

It is often said that the first hundred years are the most difficult. The Methodist hope to get some data on this at first hand because they expect the church will continue to serve the community for another century or more.

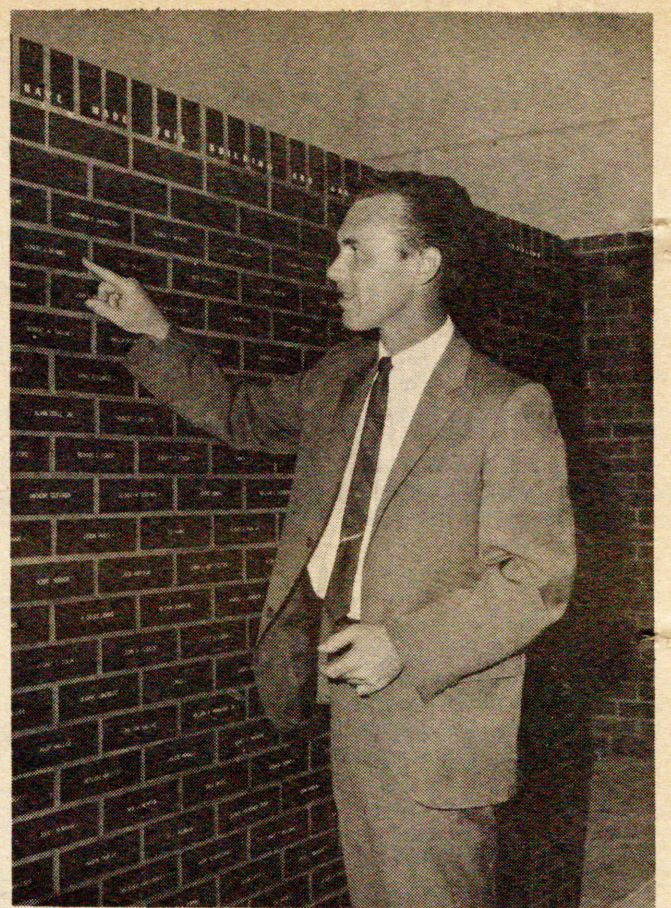

More Expensive Spread Back In School Lunches

Around 19 million children who participate in the national school-lunch program will be served butter again as a result of the October 21 purchase of 688,000 pounds of butter by the U.S. department of agriculture.

Avery A. Vose, president of Pure Milk Association, stated today the department purchased the butter for the school - lunch program following repeated requests by the National Milk Producers Federation, Pur Milk Association, other members of NMPF, and legislators such as Senator Proxmire of Wisconsin that the government take action to stabilize market prices by making butter and cheese available for the program.

The department bought 344,000 pounds of butter in one-pound prints at Chicago at 68 3/4 cents per pound and another purchase of the same amount at 68.2 cents per pound, Vose reported.

Vose said the department has also offered to buy cheddar cheese for the school-lunch program.

ALBERT J. Behnke of Behnke Studios, Frankfort, is one of many men who belong to the Professional Photographers Assn. of America.

Recently the Association dedicated their new headquarters in Des Plaines, Ill. It had been previously located in Milwaukee, Wis.

Part of the building houses the Daquerre Gardens. In the Garden is a wall of glazed bricks with the names of the men who have dedicated themselves to their profession. Mr. Behnke is shown pointing to the brick which contains his name.

Change Date Of PT Group Meeting

MRS. EDWARD HOVI
Telephone: 479-5740

There has been a change in plans for the November meeting of the Summit Hill Parent-Teacher Group. Instead of the second Thursday of the month, there will be an open house held at the school for the benefit of the parents on WEDNESDAY, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

This will give the parents an opportunity to see the work of their children without Junior being there with big ears hanging out. Short conferences may be held with the teachers at this time, but any lengthy conferences deemed necessary should be scheduled for another time at the convenience of both parent and teacher.

Remember the change in date now, the meeting is now scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 9, at 8:00 p.m. There will also be a change in date for the December meeting to bring it closer to Christmas. The December meeting will be held on Thursday, Dec. 15, and will be held in the Christmas Theme.

The Parent - Teacher Group is also beginning a series of full length movies suitable for all the family. They will be held on every fourth Saturday beginning this Saturday, Nov. 5 at 1:00 p.m. until approximately 3:00 p.m. In addition to the movie, Please, Don't Eat The Daisies, there will be a short cartoon.

The cost of these movies will be set at fifty cents per person to start, but, since these films are being shown on a non-profit basis, the admission fee may be adjusted at a later date so that it will just cover expenses.

It is further requested that children do NOT bring munchables, candy, gum, popcorn, etc., to the show, and none will be sold there to eliminate some of the large job of cleanup afterwards.

One further restriction is that pre-school age children are not to be left for the movies unaccompanied. A pre-Schooler must be accompanied either by an adult or one of the older children in the family.

The Arbury Hills Teens Club is holding a Hay Ride in New Lenox for their members and guests at a cost of $1.50 per person.

Roses are red, violets blue, daffodils yellow, sometimes too. Certainly a terrible bit of rhyme to describe an attractive flower. However, it is an emphatic way to say that daffodils come in a variety of colors.

The biggest fooler is the so called pink daffodil. There's no doubt about it's color when it's illustrated in bulb bins or catalogs. It's the most distinct, delicate pink you ever saw. However, in the garden, it's such a delicate color that it looks like faded beige. There are some pink daffodils that are striking in color but these pink daffodils are orange!

Fortunately, other colors are much more accurately described. Yellow King Alfreds and white Mount Hoods are true colors. However, there is a group of daffodils that are two colored. This is why we say that daffodils are yellow sometimes. The petals may be white and the cup yellow or vice versa. This certainly gives plenty of variety.

The variety comes not only in color but also form. Daffodil specialists have established eleven such divisions. Large, small, and trumpet shaped cups form three divisions. Doubles such as Twink or Butter and Eggs form another division. Among the most unusual are the Cyclameneus hybrids such as March Sunshine. They are characterized by a protruding cup with folded back petals much in the fashion of a cyclamen or shooting star.

Planting time for the daffodils extends from late August to the time the ground is frozen. However, the earlier planted the better. Once planted they are best left in place from year to year unless overcrowded. Therefore, when starting a bed allow room for spreading by spacing the bulbs well apart. Large varieties such as the trumpets may be planted eight or ten inches apart. Take a ruler or yardstick and actually measure! This will allow space for the clump to build up and become established. With such wide planting you need to plant only one bulb of a variety. The bulbs will soon multiply and give a heavy display of bloom in the spring garden.

Mrs. Lawrence Woodman gave a family dinner in her home on Sunday, Oct. 30 in honor of her mother's birthday anniversary. Mrs. Lilly Herschbach was 91 years old on Nov. 1.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herschbach, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herschbach, Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Bates and Mrs. Ruth Bates.

Depth of planting is important too. Here again take out a ruler and measure. Best have four or five inches of soil over the shoulder of the bulb. This puts the bulb down deep enough for good stem support. It also allows room for over-planting with annuals in mid-May. Daffodils as opposed to tulips are an informal flower. Plant them in irregular patterns not square and triangles.

Finally, don't consider your bulb planting completed until you have given the soil a good soaking. Now wait for spring and you'll observe that daffodils come in many colors, and sometimes yellow.

The Amite Club met at the home of Mrs. Ernest Pfiffer in New Lenox this Tuesday for a social evening. Later refreshments were served by the hostess to her guests. Miss Patrice Paterson was feted at a miscellaneous shower given by the Misses Karen and Yvonne Piepenbrink and Mrs. Myron Subert recently in the Fellowship Hall of St. Peters United Church. She received a corsage of pink carnations upon her arrival. Various games were played with duplicate prizes awarded to Mrs. Ted Zylstra, Mrs. Earl Piepenbrink and Mrs. Luella Waldvodel.

About fifty guests were in attendance and were later served a buffet supper. The out of town guests were from Green Garden, Peotone, Steger, Crete, Matteson, Wilmington, Grant Park Beecher, Chicago Heights and Cedar Lake, Ind.

Stagg Loses Grid Game To Rich Central

Stagg High, newest member of the Southeast Suburban Conference lost to Rich Central football team last Saturday 97 to 6.

This was the biggest lopsided score reported in prep football season.

Rich Central, like Rich East in the Southwest Suburban Conference, is unbeaten this year. Fourteen touchdowns by one team in the course of an hour of football is a lot of running. It was one of those here-he-comes-there-he-goes days for the spectators.

Tinley Park won its Southeast Conference game against Crete-Monee, 27 to 19 and Thornton Fractional South had scoring bursts in the first and final quarters to beat Bradley 40 to 14.

HALF AN INCH more in width and the set of antlers on the left would have gone into the records of Wyoming where it was bagged by Paul Charles, Wolf Rd., Mokena. He returned last week bringing two deer heads, -- and a lot of venison -- getting out just before snow had blocked most of the roads in the Big Horn Mountains. To go in the records a set of antlers must be at least 24 inches wide and the points must be equal on both sides. This was a 10-point buck and there are five points on each side but they were only 23 1/2 inches in width. The other head is a three-pointer, Charles, who has a tree removal business also works at the trade for a construction firm developing some wooded areas near Hinsdale, has been making hunting trips to Wyoming for the past nine years and never comes back empty handed. The big buck he got this year weighed about 425 pounds.

A LIVELY CAPE -- and if you think it isn't try to get a picture of three young squirrels standing still for a fraction of a second. The third squirrel was sitting up on Mrs. Paul Charles left shoulder but as the shutter was released it darted downward but you can still see a part of him just below the head of its brother, Mr. Charles was felling trees in a development near Hinsdale and when one dropped he saw that it contained a nest of four baby squirrels and the mother. One of the babies was killed and the mother took off and didn't return. When evening came Mr. Charles brought the three home. Mrs. Charles has tamed them but says they are quite mischievous. One of the things they do she wishes they wouldn't do is lift the drape pins off the draw rod, dropping the drapes to the floor. The Charles live on Wolf Rd., near Hickory Creek, Mokena. ASCS Tells How 1967 Wheat Program Works

In the 1967 wheat program, without acreage diversion provisions or diversion payments how will a farmer qualify for loans and certificates? The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, lines it up this way: A participating farmer will.

1. Sign up with the ASCS county office during the sign-up period to be announced later.

2. Have a acreage of wheat no larger than the farm allotment (or no larger than the acreage available for production under the program if he plans to use and signs up for the substitution.)

3. Maintain the farm's conserving base. (Wheat farms will have a lower conserving base in 1967.)

4. Keep within all other program allotments established for the participating farm.

5. Keep within the wheat allotment or "permitted" acreage on any other farm in which such producer has an interest. If there is substitution between wheat and feed grains on the farm, keep within the feed grain (corn and grain sorghum) base on permitted acreage as well as the wheat allotment on any other farm in which the participating producer has an interest.

Farm wheat allotments under the 1967 program have been increased to reflect the increase in the national wheat allotment, which boosted the total to 68.2 million acres. This is 32 percent larger than the 1966-crop effective allotment. The increased allotment will enable farmers who believe increased production will be profitable to plant more land to wheat and still be eligible for full program benefits.

Benefits under the 1967 wheat program will include price support loans of $1.25 per bushel, national average, on the participating farm's entire wheat production (expect any stored excess wheat); and domestic marketing certificates on 35 percent of the farm allotment's projected production, valued at the difference between $1.25 and parity on July 1, 1967. (The certificates for the 1966 program are valued at $1.32 per bushel.)

Urges Extra Care In Night Driving

Accidents go up when the sun goes down. It's a fact, says the Chicago Motor Club.

And now that clocks have been returned to Standard Time, darkness will be coming an hour earlier. This means twilight and nightfall will come during pedestrian and vehicular rush hours, it was pointed out.

To reduce accidents at this critical period, the motor club's safety and traffic engineering department suggests:

--Cut down driving speed at night.

--Be especially watchful

for pedestrians. Pedestrians wearing dark clothing are difficult to see under artificial light.

--Keep headlights and windshields clean to provide maximum visibility.

--Check taillights, turn signals, and high low beams to make sure they are working properly.

--Make allowance for your age. Let vanity take the back seat to intelligence. Recovery from glare takes longer for older drivers than for younger ones. Adjust your speed accordingly.

JUBILANT OVER VICTORY --- Mokena Burros were happy after winning the League PeeWee Title over Tinley Park on Sunday, Oct. 23 at the Mokena Community Park.

Deny Sandburg Slice Of Grid Championship

Carl Sandburg's varsity football team saw its hope of sharing in the Southwest Suburban Conference championship got out the window after Saturday's results went into the record book.

In the first place Rich East won its sixth game in as many starts, trouncing Bremen 42 to 0 while Sandburg and Oak Lawn battled to a 13-13 tie. Rich could lose its game this Saturday and still be league champion. For Sandburg to have had a slice of the crown Rich East should have lost last week while Sandburg was winning. Then if Rich and Sandburg both won this week end they would have split the honors.

The week before Sandburg clobbered the Vikings 33 to 0 but last Saturday was different. The Eagles began as the prepared to stage another route. They scored 13 points in the first quarter but that scoring was the only bit Sandburg was able to put on the board.

Those 13 points looked good at half time and bigger yet the end of the third quarter but in the fourth period they were tied up.

Sandburg's first touchdown came on a 14 - yard pass to Johnson by Liniewski and the next was on a four-yard run by Lavine. Johnson booted an extra point so by quarter's end it was Sandburg 13 and Oak Lawn 0.

In the final period Oaklawn's Katzman grabbed a 7 -yard pass from Sleds and went over for a touchdown. The next tally came on a 50-yard return by Housman of a blocked punt. Reithofer kicked the extra point and the game ended 13-13.

Sandburg had a good team this year but then Sandburg generally has a good football team and is never counted out as a contender for the conference championship.

It's defensive unit has been described this fall as one of the best in the school's history. So far Sandburg has held its opponents to 34 points all season.

Piccolo Playhouse Stars Vivian Blaine

VIVIAN BLAINE, Broadway's original "ever-loving Adelaide", is the star in "Guys and Dolls" now playing at D'Amico's Piccolo Playhouse. "Guys and Dolls" called "a musical fable of Broadway" is based on a story by the inimitable Damon Runyon. It is chock-full of typical Runyon characters such as Nathan Detroit, Sky Masterson, Big Jule, Benny Southstreet, Harry the Horse, Nicely-Nicely Johnson, the Hot Box Girls and many others.

The men are all gamblers and the action concerns them, their girls and their problems - the chief trouble being the difficulty of deciding between the rolling of the dice and the beating of the heart. There are two equally wacky love stories.

The first involves "Miss Adelaide," a nightclub canary, and Nathan Detroit, played by Felix Shuman the proprietor of "The Oldest Established Permanent Floating Crap Game in New York". They have been engaged for fourteen years, but the wedding has been continually postponed because of Nathan's sudden need to dash off to Saratoga racetrack, or to supervise a crap game or disappear in some other mysterious way.

The other romance concerns the wacky combination of Sky Masterson, a big-time, free living, free loving plunger played by Steve Strong and Sarah Brown, a Salvation Army lass who heads the run-down Save-A-Soul Mission, played by Kathy Emma. Complications ensue but the course of true love is ultimately smoothed out.

The music and lyrics by Frank Loesser are witty and always surprising. Some of the twenty odd hit songs are "A Bushel and a Peck", "Guys and Dolls", "If I Were a Bell" and "Luck Be A Lady."

Vivian Blaine's interpretation of "the ever-loving Miss Adelaide" is one of the classics of musical comedy. She did the role first on Broadway where it ran for 1200 performances to rave previews. Then she was the only star from the original cast to retain a principal role in the movie version with Marlon Brando, Frank Sinatra and Jean Simmons. Miss Blaine has been a star since her second movie, "Greenwich Village" and has starred in "Something For The Boys", "Nob Hill" and "State Fair". Her other outstanding Broadway roles include "A Hat Full of Rain", "Say Darling" and "Enter Laughing".

Mr. Earl J. D'Amico, producer, said "Guys and Dolls" has the same type of humor and good fun as "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" and therefore, "I'm sure our audiences will love it." The season will conclude with EILEEN FULTON (Lisa Hughes from "As The World Turns") in "The Provincials", a premiere, pre-Broadway showing of this new musical written by James Monos.

Curtain at 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday; at 6:00 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. on Saturdays and at 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Sunday. Tickets are now on sale at D'Amico's "214", 214 North Ottawa Street, Joliet, Illinois.

L-W Loses To Reavis, Meets Bremen Nov. 5

Lincoln - Way footballers have had some bad years but the current season will go down as one of the most unfortunate.

The Knights won their opening game against Lemont, a non-conference affair, but since that time have been unable to post another victory.

It isn't that the team isn't in there fighting every game. Heavens knows they try. They are tryingest lot one ever saw but it seems like something is always going wrong and when a team is losing consistently it is difficult for it to retrieve the slightest error.

Last Saturday the Lincoln-Ways lost another conference game -- this one to Reavis by a score of 33 to 7.

Three of the Reavis touchdowns had their beginnings thru pass interceptions. This was unfortunate for Lincoln-

Way but whenever a pass is thrown there is always the chance that someone other than the one it is intended for will grab it. That happens in the college game, it happens in the pro game. Interception of a pass is not a federal offense--not yet anyway.

One of the passes intercepted was seized by Sawin who then set out on a 72-yard sprint for a touchdown. Another Reavis touchdown runs was one of those that thrill fans -- a 75-yard jaunt by Grochowski. Terharr counted from the two-yard mark and North and Baleatis from the one.

Jahneke scored for Lincoln-Way on a three yard pass from Martin and McCure kicked the extra point.

Lincoln-Way will play its last game of the season this Saturday, Nov. 5, against Bremen on the Braves field.

3 Teachers Attend Vocational Meeting

Three Carl Sandburg high school teachers attended a state-wide Illinois Research Co-ordination Unit Workshop at Sterling high school Oct. 25.

Mrs. Patricia Cote, home economics department chairman; Wendall Henderson, industrial arts instructor; and Robert Karlo, business education teacher, attended and took notes on the conception of the Area Vocational School.

These three teachers are involved in team - teaching one of Sandburg's newest programs, a course called "visual communications."

Thirty sophomores are taking part in a three-year pilot program that involves typewriters, graphic arts, and restaurant menus. By the time they are seniors, they will be able to work part time in local food establishments and will be well oriented to the world of useful work, Mrs. Cote said.

Jack Watts, assistant superintendent at Sterling, told the vocational teachers that "there is more and more evidence that developmental vocational guidance services should be offered on a continuing basis from the fifth grade thru employment."

55 Registrars Aid County Registration

County Clerk Clara Hartley Woodard today reassured Will County Voters who have registered to vote with county registrars that their registrations are valid and they will be able to vote on election day.

Her announcement came after she had received phone calls from concerned county voters who responded to a statement by Mrs. Woodard's opponent for County Clerk that there is only one registrar in Will County.

Mrs. Woodard said: "The 55 registrars I have appointed in the 23 Townships outside Joliet are legally deputized to register Will County residents to vote. I am sorry that one irresponsible statement has caused so much concern among Will County voters."

A Chicago newspaper on, Oct. 23, reported the Democratic candidate as saying: "Right now we only have one registrar, who is in the courthouse, but there are 24 townships in the county."

Mrs. Woodard said that almost 1,500 Will County residents have registered to vote with the 55 county registrars in recent months.

She added, however, that state law requires that no registrations be taken between Oct. 11 and Nov. 8, the day of the general election.

Tour Of Illinois Museums?

Ever hear of the Cahokia Mounds State Park Museum? Or the Timke Circle-T Indian Museum? How 'bout Rest Cottage? Or School of Nations Museum? The Pioneer Land Museum of Piatt County?

These are a few of the amazing array of listings in an unusual booklet--"100 Magnificent Museums in Illinois."

The booklet, complete with vivid description and information on each of the 100 museums in the state, was reprinted from a group of articles in Illinois Bell News, the telephone company's employee magazine. The reprint is in answer to dozens of requests from organizations and individuals for copies of the material to help spur the "visitor industry" in Illinois.

"Illinois' outstanding array of museums represents one of our leading cultural and educational assets," an Illinois Bell spokesman, says. "And they are leading tourist attractions, too. Many museums--far from being stuffy, dusty places some think they are--have gained national and world fame."

The compilation took months of research and is said to be the "most complete 'dictionary' of Illinois museums ever compiled." Some 100,000 have been distributed, and requests have poured in from museums, civic and historical organizations, schools, universities, students and libraries.

"The project is part of Illinois Bell's efforts to promote the economical, cultural and recreational assets of Illinois," the spokesman said. "It is another step in our program to highlight the state's healthy growth."

Illinois Bell last year began a series of advertisements, "Take Pride in the Promise of Illinois," as a step to promote Illinois as a good place to live, work and play. The theme of the "Take Pride" series was described by Gov. Otto Kerner: "To keep our state growing, to keep it a better place for families, business and industry to grow; and to make it attractive to industries seeking new locations."

In a letter to John D. DeButts, president of Illinois Bell, Gov. Kerner noted that many points of interest in Illinois are better known outside the state and added: "Your bulletin (on the museum) will help us greatly to publicize these points of historical and cultural interest."

"Every person belongs in a Museum--at some time or another," the Illinois Bell spokesman said. "At least, you should visit one often, for things are changing every day. Museums display the world's treasures for all to admire. But did you know that museums rank alongside industry and universities as workshops for scientists and scholars?"

Since the tribe adopted profit sharing, everybody's gotten a head.

Do You Want To Get Ahead?

You don't have to be a Zulu warrior to get in on profit sharing.

We have a mouth-watering Profit Sharing Plan right here at Schaub-Magnetrol-SyncroFlo. This juicy morsel is designed to make you a person of independent means . . . so when you lay down your spear and shield at 65, you can live off the fat of the land.

Our chief personnel scout has actuarial projections (accounting talk for detailed statistical studies) that show what you can expect to have in your account at retirement. Here's a little hint of what you can expect:

A young brave who starts in the plan at age 25 at $5000 a year has a retirement projection of--now, HANG ON--$176,000!

Why not join our Profit Sharing tribe. We're looking for qualified people to serve as:
